

Golden Wedding at Kosy Grove

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson McRoberts, an event that interested the residents of Saline County and several states, occurred Friday, August 26, 1910, at their elegant and comfortable home, "The Kosy Grove," which is situated six miles north east of Malta Bend. A beautiful country villa, with its sentinels of walnut, oak, soft and sugar maples, Norway Pines, Scotch Cedars, Black Locusts, Ash and Cottonwoods. This has been a place of peaceful and happy memories.

For fifty-two years these sentinels have crooned the inhabitant to sleep with their lullabys and symphonies of royal diapason tones. The breezes have been cooled on the hot summer days by their passage through their cooling branches as they have fanned the fair brows of the dwellers of Kosy Grove. It is an ideal home where a happy and congenial crowd gathered to celebrate this auspicious event.

The home was tastefully decorated, the color scheme being yellow and green. It was carried out through the house. In the hall, parlor, dining room and in the beautiful bower created on the east porch, were decorations consisting of Golden Glow, Golden Rod, Wild and Japanese Sunflowers, Lotus blossoms and Lotus leaves. Tall reeds and canes were placed at the door of the porch. On the floor was an Indian blanket made by the Navajah tribe. In this bower punch was served to every guest as they passed down the receiving line.

In the dining room hung streamers of white tulle, from the ceiling to the four corners of the dining table, where a large bowl of lotus blossoms and asparagus foliage were placed. On the front porch were ferns, sweet peas and sunflowers. A large number of folding chairs were set about the lawn. The whole effect was restful as well as an omen of the golden glow of the sunset of lives well spent in the service of God and man.

A large number of invitations were issued and many guests came from a distance. At 2 p. m. the receiving line was formed. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McRoberts, she holding a beautiful bouquet of Japanese Sunflowers tied with a sash of gold, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McRobert and Mrs. Ellen Houston were seated in rocking chairs, while Revs. Jones, Leatherman, Carter and James and Mesdames Frick, Leatherman, Carter and James were standing to receive the guests.

After the reception a short program was rendered, a vocal solo by Mrs. William Hoyt Raymond, Jr., entitled, "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet," a solo by Rev. Chas. C. James, with male quartet accompaniment. Then ice cream and cake was served and the guests repaired to the porch and lawn, where prayer was offered by the Rev. W. F. Jones, superintendent of Sedalia District of the M. E. Church. Then an address was delivered by the Rev. J. M. Carter, D. D., of Butler, Mo. Then the Rev. Wm. Leatherman in a happy presentation from many of their church friends, a beautiful cane and cameo brooch, which was appreciated by the youthful bride and bridegroom. He then read a set of resolutions drafted by the Quarterly Conference of the Malta Bend Methodist Episcopal church, after which "Blest be the Tie that Binds," was sung. Then the benediction was pronounced and the friends gave themselves over to a pleasant hour of reminiscences.

Many beautiful tokens of the love and esteem in which the celebrants were held which will be a memorial of the happy occasion. The following guests from a distance were present:

A. H. McRoberts and wife, Muskogee, Okla.; J. N. McRoberts, wife and family, Muskogee, Okla.; S. A. Lanning, wife and family, Muskogee, Okla.; Mrs. Gertrude Carter Raymond, Oklahoma City, Okla.; A. "Sure Cure"

"I would like to guide suffering women to a sure cure for female troubles," writes Mrs. R. E. Mercer, of Frozen Camp, W. Va. "I have found no medicine equal to Cardui. I had suffered for about four years. Would have headache for a week at a time, until I would be nearly crazy. I took Cardui and now I never have the headache any more."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

The pains from which many women suffer every month are unnecessary.

It's not safe to trust to strong drugs, right at the time of the pains.

Better to take Cardui for a while, before and after, to strengthen the system and cure the cause.

This is the sensible, the scientific, the right way. Try it.

Andrew Jackson McRoberts was born in Ross County, Ohio, near Chillicothe, March 15th, 1830. Mrs. Mary Priscilla was born near Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio, Oct. 11, 1838. They received a common school education and she taught school for a few years. They were married August 26, 1860 at the home of the bride.

Mr. McRoberts came west in 1852 purchased land in Saline county adjoining Kosy Grove. He then returned to Ross county, Ohio. In 1853 his father died. He and his brother bought the home place, in 1856 he sold his part to his brother, coming west again and bought Kosy Grove, which has been his home ever since. In 1860 he took a pilgrimage to Ohio, coming back to Missouri with a blushing bride. Thirteen children have been born to them, seven of whom are still living, four sons and three daughters. He united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Malta Bend, holding an official relation for many years. A prophetic chamber for preachers has always been maintained. He was a Justice of the Peace for a term, also member of the school board. He served with the home guards under Capt. Burnside.

Malta Bend was not on the map when he came to Saline. The deer used to cross his farm going from the bottom to Salt Fork for water. Marshall at that time was an inland town of small proportions.

The first farm he purchased cost $250 per acre. The next one cost $19 per acre, the next one $3. They are now worth more than $150 per acre. He used to get his mail from Miami and Marshall, now it is delivered every day at the door of his home.

Mr. McRoberts has been an honored citizen, true neighbor and a manly man. His beloved wife has been loyal to him, a mother to children as well as to the children of other people.

May this golden crowning of years of wedded life, revive memories as precious as the rain, as bright as the morning sun, freighted with the wealth of love the years have developed. May they long enjoy Kosy Grove, surrounded by affectionate children and kind friends.

The Marshall Republican joins in extending congratulations to the honored citizens.

Fresh Air is the Weapon

Don't indulge in excesses and intemperance.

Don't overwork.

Don't sleep in a crowded room. Keep away from the smoke and dust.

Don't breathe through the mouth. Take exercise in the sunlight, and open air, eat good food, and rest.

This is the formula for the prevention of tuberculosis given by the Missouri Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

One thousand persons heard the lecture by Doctor Stewart and saw the exhibits of the society in Convention Hall in Kansas City. The exhibits usually are left in the car but to accommodate a larger crowd, they were brought to Convention Hall. The exhibits show persons in all stages of consumption and photographs of the various open air methods of cure and prevention. Views of the open air sanitarium of the society at Mount Vernon, Mo., were shown. The principal part of the program was the lecture and slides shown on the screen.

"The purpose of this society is to teach the people of Missouri how to prevent tuberculosis," Doctor Stewart said, "rather than to cure them. We want the support of the people in this campaign and we must have it. The best way to prevent the disease is to get plenty of fresh air in the sleeping rooms. Persons retire for the night—this is most frequent in the winter—with the windows closed tight and no means of getting fresh air except through the keyhole. The lungs of such persons become poisoned by the air they breathe and thus are susceptible to the germs of tuberculosis that they encounter on the street in the office or from the person beside them in the street cars. To be healthy, fresh air is a necessity.

"Private drinking cups or drink fountains in the schoolrooms should be required by every school board. The crowded sleeping rooms in the tenement quarters are veritable hotbeds of tuberculosis.

"People should buy their provisions in clean stores and all fruits and vegetables should be screened so the flies and dust can not get to them. The clothes offered at rummage sales should be disinfected by the city health board before they are sold. Tuberculosis, scarlet fever and many other diseases are communicated in old clothing.

"The school boards should employ no tubercular teachers. Persons can be cured of tuberculosis only by living outdoors, winter and summer, but it is easier to prevent than to cure."

The Prohibition Amendment

At the Sunday night union service Dr. W. H. Black delivered a strong talk on "Statewide Prohibition." The Doctor has made numerous temperance talks of late and is in good fighting trim. He divided his subject into three heads: Personal liberty, confiscation of property, enforcement.

In regard to personal liberty, he said that a man who loves his neighbor has no right to put a cause for stumbling in his way. "Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend." Also that a wife and children of a man has a legal right to a share of his earnings and that to spend it in drink is breaking the law, and to prevent him from drinking is enforcing the law, not taking away his personal liberty.

Confiscation of property—He said that progress has always been made at some one's expense and that in this case the steam roller of progress will strike the brewer as it did the wheat cradle and bustle manufacturers some years ago.

Enforcement—Laws will never be fully enforced, as theft and murder is committed in spite of the law forbidding it, but pointed to Saline as a fair sample of an honest effort in that direction.

He urged all to vote as their conscience dictated on the prohibition amendment in the November election.

How Good News Spreads

"I am 70 years old and travel most of the time," writes B. F. Tolson, of Elizabethtown, Ky. "Everywhere I go I recommend Electric Bitters, because I owe my excellent health and vitality to them. They effect a cure every time." They never fail to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. They work wonders for weak, run-down men and women, restoring strength, vigor and health that's a daily joy. Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction is positively guaranteed by P. H. Franklin.

Will Move to Marshall

Elsa and Hains this week sold the Geo. C. Hains farm north of Slater to Edward C. Dehn, of Illinois, who spent the past year with Aug. Schmidt near town. There are 160 acres, consideration $14,400. Mr. Hains will have a sale about Oct. 1st and then move to town with his family, having rented a residence on East Arrow.
